

Nazis Repeat Technique Now Familiar To World

U.S. Invited To "Super-Munich" Says N.Y. Herald Tribune. Sees German Plot To Reduce British Empire To the Role of Second Poland and U.S. to the Role "Hitherto Contemptuously Allotted to Britain."

Canadian Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The New York Herald Tribune in an editorial today saw danger for the United States in the suggestion of Dr. Otto Dietrich, German press chief, that peace in Europe could be achieved "only if the United States unequivocally denies all support to Great Britain unless the latter agrees to enter peace negotiations."

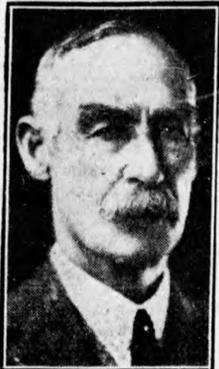

The paper headed its editorial, "Invitation to a Super-Munich" and said:

"There has been no more brilliant and no more ominous revelation of the paranoic state of the Nazi mind than this. Exactly repeating a technique now familiar to all, this does nothing less than reduce the British Empire to the role of a second Poland and reduce the United States to the role hitherto contemptuously allotted to Great Britain."

"If the United States, warned by the results of the British course at Munich, should fail to imitate that example, patently the United States will then be the 'war-monger' and solely responsible for the slaughter which the Nazi Napoleon ruthlessly threatens. Thus demoted, however, to the role which Britain played in the Czech and Polish crises, will we not similarly be cast as the victim in the succeeding acts?"

"Should the German government formally request our own government to convoke a peace conference, it would be the privilege of our government to call the attention of the German government to the successive official appeals and warnings we have made and given against acts of aggression by that government," said the New York Times.

The paper added the United States government should: "Assert our readiness to call such a conference and to participate in it, as soon as the German government has made restitution for these acts of aggression and given appropriate guarantees of its intentions in future to respect its treaties."

The Citizens Of the Kingdom

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Oct. 22.

Golden text: "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven." Matthew 5:16.

Lesson passage: Matthew 5:1-16. Teach us in truth and light to grow Thy laws to love, thy word to know, in thee we will always abide. O King of Glory, be our Guide. —N. Rolfsen.

Giving the Best, 1, 2. Christ loved people, all people. He did not despise people who were unlearned and illiterate. He spent much of his public ministry teaching a group of working men to be teachers. He was always ready to tell stories to a crowd of people. He talked to the people who wished to speak with him. The Sermon on the Mount is a summary of Christ's teaching. It was spoken in the first instance to a crowd of people upon a hillside.

The Christian Church needs to re-learn Christ's love for people, all people. In a certain city, a congregation called a distinguished scholar, in the hope of making their church appeal to university people. The experiment did not work. The congregation could not understand the classical references of the preacher. The Church has one message for all. The example of Christ is to teach in a way that all may understand.

The Beatitudes, 3-12. The Beatitudes are for the New Testament what the Ten Commandments are for the Old. In these words Christ explained his secret of a happy life. The moment we read them we are convinced that we are not living in the spirit of the Beatitudes. The dictators of totalitarian states, who are seeking to overthrow the world have adopted standards the very opposite of the Beatitudes.

The question that we inevitably ask is: Are the Beatitudes practical? Can people such as we live in the spirit of the Beatitudes in the very workaday world of the twentieth century? Plainly Christ did not speak them as theory. He expected his followers to act upon the Beatitudes. He himself lived them.

The best interpretation of the Beatitudes is the life of Christ himself. He lived daily in the spirit of his teaching. It is a sign of his confidence in human nature that he gave such idealistic teaching to plain people and expected them to follow it. At first we may be discouraged, but if we surrender our wills to Christ and come under his influence fully, then we shall find that the Beatitudes are standards which we really desire to obey.

SUNDAY CHURCH SERVICES

When the Pharisees had heard that Jesus had put the Sadducees to silence, they were gathered together. Then one of them, who was a lawyer, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying, Master, which is the great commandment in the law? Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets. While the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them, saying, What think ye of Christ? whose son is he? They say unto him, The son of David. He saith unto them, How then doth David in spirit call him Lord, saying, The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy foot-stool? If David then call him Lord, how is he his son? And no man was able to answer him a word: neither durst any man from that day forth ask him any more questions.—St. Matt 22-34.

was so sure of God's love for men. He taught his truths convincingly because he had received the truths from God.

The only satisfying explanation of the unique life of Jesus Christ is his consciousness of God. He did not speak of God as an impersonal force but as a personal will, a Father intelligent, loving, purposeful, the God who is a Spirit. Each good life brings greater glory to God.

A world at war on two continents is a denial of the fatherhood of God.

Questions for Discussion

1. What are the qualifications of a good teacher?
2. Have you really tried to live the Beatitudes?
3. Are the Christians you know serving as salt for society?
4. How far does your Christian witness shine?
5. What was the attitude Jesus towards God?

Workers Prepared To Sell Happiness In Charity Appeal

Prepared, in the words of the general chairman, R. Percy Sparks, "to sell for human happiness," several hundred volunteer workers gathered at the Chateau Laurier last night in a pre-campaign rally for the seventh annual appeal for the Ottawa Community Chest.

Knowledge of the work of the 21 co-operating agencies plus personal enthusiasm would result in the objective of $160,000 being reached in the campaign from October 16 to 26, asserted Harry H. Wright, vice-president of the Metropolitan Life Assurance Company. Mr. Wright was one of a number of speakers who gave inspirational talks to the workers and mentioned points to be emphasized.

Some knowledge of the work was given by six speakers representing as many agencies, who gave highlights of their year-round service. They were Miss Kate McIlraith, superintendent of the Victorian Order of Nurses; J. J. Lyons, chairman of the board of the Ottawa branch of the Canadian Institute for the Blind, speaking for W. E. Hamilton; Rev. Sister St. Thomas, superior of the Jean of Arc Institute; Rev. Sister Mary Soszta, superior of the Sisters of Service; G. H. Young, superintendent of the Union Mission, and Mrs. Jean Henshaw, executive director of the Children's Aid Society.

Need For Enthusiasm.
Mr. Justice Patrick Kerwin, chairman of the Roman Catholic and Non-Sectarian Chest, also emphasized necessity for enthusiasm. It was needed more than ever this year, he said. Many persons would use the war as an excuse for not contributing or for reducing their usual givings. This year's slogan, "Now, More Than Ever, They Need Our Help," was definitely true. Moreover, charitable organizations would need more money because of increased cost of service through increased cost of living. War conditions also made surveillance by these organizations more necessary.

Mr. Wright said that this "home defence was a vital sector in the fight against hopelessness, helplessness and misery." Ottawa had 80,000 adults. Since the Community Chests started, those contributing to charities increased from 5,000 to 23,000. "But if the other 57,000 gave only $2 each we would almost raise our budget."

Mr. Sparks said the workers would have to instill the idea of community service. "The chest is a real example of democracy when we can gather together all classes and creeds of the community for charitable effort." He told the workers that the public would have few, if any, calls for donations to war effort except through the chests and the Red Cross. The chests funds would assist in war services. "We cannot afford to fail."

Hormidas Beaulieu, president of the Institut Canadien Francais, spoke on behalf of the French section. The speakers were thanked by A. A. Crawley, chairman of the Protestant, General and Non-Sectarian Chest.

Red Cross Meeting
RICHMOND, Oct. 13.—Under the chairmanship of Reeve Norman McCaffrey of Goulbourn a largely attended public meeting was held on Tuesday evening in the town hall at Stanley Corners in the interests of Red Cross work. Speakers from Ottawa gave instructions on the type of work to be undertaken.

Mrs. E. V. Farquharson Passes in 86th Year

A beloved resident of the Ottawa district for many years, Mrs. Elizabeth V. Farquharson, widow of I. A. Farquharson, died at her home, Aymer road, yesterday. She was in her 86th year.

Although Mrs. Farquharson had been in ill-health for some time, her death was unexpected and will come as a sincere shock to a host of friends and acquaintances.

Born in Quebec city, a daughter of the late John Miller and his wife, Harriet Hitchens, she married Mr. Farquharson on Oct. 1st, 1877, in Ottawa. For several years following her marriage, Mrs. Farquharson lived at Billings Bridge, but for the past 40 years resided on the Aymer road. Her husband, a well-known horticulturist, predeceased her seven years ago. She attended St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Aymer.

Surviving are four sons, John A. and James K., both at home; George H. of Kamloops, B.C., and A. Campbell Farquharson of Ottawa; four daughters, Mrs. Isobel Joynt, Mrs. M. H. Peterkin and Mrs. H. S. Smith, all of Ottawa, and Miss Jessie Farquharson, at home. Several grandchildren and great grandchildren also survive.

The funeral service will be conducted at the residence by Rev. H. G. Lowry on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be in Conroy cemetery.

Five Boys Charged With Stealing Radiator Caps

Five boys charged with the theft of 25 radiator caps, valued all the way from $1 to $7 each, were arraigned before Judge J. F. McKinley in Juvenile Court Friday afternoon and were remanded one week for sentence. The boys were arrested by Detective Albert Oumet of No. 2 station, following complaints by residents that the radiator caps were disappearing from their cars.

Three boys, charged with the theft of an automobile, were remanded one week for sentence. Four youths, charged with breaking and entering St. George's Home, Wellington street, and premises at 75 Stirling avenue, were remanded one week for sentence.

An Urgent Appeal

THE BRITISH AND FOREIGN BIBLE SOCIETY since its foundation in 1804 has ever as its sole object, whether in peace or war, "the wider circulation of the Holy Scriptures without note or comment." From 1914 till 1919 it distributed in connection with the Great War, more than nine million copies of the Scriptures in over 80 languages, and in Canada some 434,814 in 18 languages. In the lesser wars since then, such service has been faithfully rendered.

THE SOCIETY IN CANADA AND NEWFOUNDLAND, through its fifteen Auxiliaries, appeals to all to contribute to a War Emergency Fund established

- (a) To maintain, and, if possible, to increase the circulation of the Holy Scriptures throughout the world without distinction of friend or foe.
- (b) To provide an adequate supply of New Testaments for presentation to all from Canada and Newfoundland who may be called to proceed overseas in the Armed and Auxiliary Forces of the Crown, and to meet, as far as possible, the increased need for Scripture distribution due to war conditions.

This essential service in time of war must at all costs be maintained, that men and women of every nation may, "through patience and comfort of the Scriptures, have hope" of the triumph of right, and the establishment of peace. In these days of emergency, dare you withhold your gift?
